Shaping Our Future

A 3-part conversation/ kōrero series exploring our collective Aotearoa New Zealand culture, understanding present impacts, and collaboratively working towards a better future, all within the spirit of Matariki.

Join us for the first event in our Matariki Conversation Series as we delve into the concept of Tangata Tiriti, which refers to non-Māori people who live in Aotearoa New Zealand and are committed to honoring Te Tiriti o Waitangi.

This exploration will cover the basics of Te Tiriti o Waitangi, its historical context, and its significance today. We'll explore what it means to be Tangata Tiriti and how this shapes our identity and responsibilities in Aotearoa New Zealand.

This safe and inclusive kōrero invites you to bring your questions, experiences, and diverse perspectives to these important conversations. Your feedback and participation will help shape our future conversations.

We are always filling up the free jacket rack, so keep checking it.
